GATEWAY SENIORS

Gateway Seniors Without Walls, an affiliate of the Center on Aging, University of Maine, welcomes everybody. There are no membership fees.

One of our major objectives is to publicize and extend services for seniors in the communities we serve. In that spirit and with the assistance of the Center on Aging, the Eastern Area Agency on Aging, and many local social service agencies, we will be offering free of charge our Senior Yellow Pages. This 200-page manual is a must-have for seniors. In big type, local and state services for seniors in 15 towns of Greater Bangor are listed and described. Each service entry contains contact information. There are discussions of complex topics. A table of contents and index make the manual relatively easy to use. Advance feedback suggests that the manual is more comprehensive than other similar documents. The Senior Yellow Pages will be available at social service agencies, libraries, and town offices throughout the greater Bangor area. Watch for it.

Gateway Seniors also schedules meaningful, diverse, and daily activities in Orono, Old Town, and Veazie. We partner with many groups that serve older people to provide activities. In June, July, and August, 2016, about 90 Gateway Senior activities will include:

Hiking, Senior Yoga, Knitting social groups, Painting and painting instruction, Music, Tours and talks by a dietitian, Restaurant outings, Movies, Talks about community resources, Historical tours and talks, Political Issues

For a copy of our Monthly Activity Schedule, which appears every month in the Penobscot Times, for information about the Senior Yellow Pages, or to volunteer to help us out, call Gateway Seniors (207) 889-3031, or email us at gatewayseiorswithoutwalls@roadrunner.com.

IMPLEMENTING THE COMP PLAN

The Town is beginning to implement its recently updated Comprehensive Plan (www.orono.org/planning). It is starting with small steps – specific Land Use Ordinance amendments – and this summer will begin to tackle some of the larger items in the plan.

The Town Council has adopted amendments dealing with aspects of signs and cluster residential development. It is currently reviewing amendments that, among other things, would:

- Update the definition and treatment of “home occupations” – recognizing that home occupations can vary from an office-based business that involves little outside traffic to the home to services or sales that bring outside traffic into a neighborhood. The proposed amendment streamlines the regulations based on the kinds of impacts they may have on a neighborhood.

- Define “house guest,” in order to allow better enforcement of limits on number of unrelated persons living in a dwelling;

- Allow “accessory apartments” (aka “mother-in-law apartments”) in accessory buildings, not just the main home;

- Classify and zone for different types of travelers’ accommodations – “homestays,” “bed-and-breakfasts,” and “hotels/motels,” in part to account for “Airbnb” and similar vacation rentals.

For more information, contact Town Planner Evan Richert, evanr@orono.org.

TOWN’S EMAIL LIST

If you would like to receive email notices of Town Council Meetings, Planning Board Meetings and special events and information, you can request to be added to the Town’s email list at info@orono.org.
